ECC presented with the “Best New Corporate Team” award by the American Lung Association in honor of their fundraising efforts for the 2008 ‘Blow the Whistle on Asthma’ Walk.

IRVING, Texas, July 1, 2008 – ECC is proud to announce that its walk team received the American Lung Association’s (ALA) “Best New Corporate Team” award as a result of their participation in the 2008 ‘Blow the Whistle on Asthma’ Walk that was held on April 12, 2008, at Victory Park, near downtown Dallas.

ECC participated in the walk with 60 other teams and was ranked second among them for contributions raised. Team Leader Jamie Countryman also came in second in the individual standings, generating over $2,500 in contributions.

ECC believes in helping others be successful, and this simple statement is the embodiment of their mission and corporate culture. “We strive to help the community, leaving it better than when we found it. I am thrilled that all of our employees participated and we were able to contribute to the American Lung Association’s research program to help those suffering from asthma and other debilitating lung diseases,” said Jamie Countryman, ECC’s Director of Marketing and Operations. “As a person who has asthma, I have experienced first hand the struggle to breathe and have been afforded a unique perspective which drives me to work hard on behalf of the ALA and other asthma sufferers. We look forward to working with the ALA again and hope we can continue to help improve the lives of affected individuals everywhere.”

About ALA

The mission of the American Lung Association® is to prevent lung disease and promote lung health. The American Lung Association® is the oldest voluntary health organization in the United States, with a National Office and constituent and affiliate associations around the country. Founded in 1904 to fight tuberculosis, the American Lung Association® today fights lung disease in all its forms, with special emphasis on asthma, tobacco control and environmental health. The American Lung Association® is funded by contributions from the public, along with gifts and grants from corporations, foundations and government agencies. The American Lung Association® achieves its many successes through the work of thousands of committed volunteers and staff.
